

Tatamagouche Brewing Company, Nova Scotia, is hiring a head brewer to join our rapidly growing brewery!

We are a certified organic brewery that opened in June 2014 with a current staff of 12. Our brewery occupies 5,000 square feet in a renovated butcher shop and library, directly on Main Street in the quaint village of Tatamagouche. Our brewery and taproom provide a unique village atmosphere in the popular destination on the North Shore of Nova Scotia. Tatamagouche is a rural community with an offering of beaches in the summer and skiing in the winter. It has a population of 1,000 people year-round, swelling to 4,000 during the summer months due to its ideal location in cottage country.

Qualifications

Ideal candidate should have experience and working knowledge in all aspects of brewery operations as well as packaging and distribution. Work ethic and attitude will be exceedingly important along with leadership skills and creativity.

Essential Functions / Responsibilities

- Responsible for the brewing and quality control/quality assurance processes and should be well versed in scheduling, brewing, cellaring and packaging.
- Recipe development.
- Manage raw materials, inventory control, scheduling and Hop contracts.
- Sanitary sampling, yeast cell counts and record keeping of all beers produced.
- Cellar operations including tank transfers, sanitation procedures.
- Equipment maintenance and troubleshooting.
- Coordinating operations with packaging, sales, management and delivery departments.
- Strong verbal communication and organization skills.
- Ability to work independently, as well as in a team environment.
- Hands-on leadership skills for developing and training a team.
- Good understanding of quality assurance / quality control and problem solving skills and to troubleshoot any beer related issues.
- Participation in events, festivals, promotions, etc.

This position offers an exciting opportunity to a passionate and experienced brewer at an award winning craft brewery.

Competitive salary based upon previous work experience and expertise.

To Apply:

Send resume, a couple paragraphs about yourself, and references.
mkenny@tatabrew.com